Your Unique Quadrant Profile

A strength is something you are good at and that motivates you, unlocking your talent and potential.

Strengths Profile assesses 60 skills and classifies them as realised strengths, unrealised strengths, learned behaviours and weaknesses.

Your key results are included, in ranked order, within your unique Quadrant Profile below. If you have less in any quadrant, it means that your responses were more aligned to the other quadrants. Use the insights from your Profile to appreciate your uniqueness and develop a career you'll love.

Realised Strengths - Use Wisely

- Develop them even further
- Dial them up and down depending on the situation

1 Unconditionality

- You have an immense capacity genuinely to accept and respect people for who they are, without ever judging them.
- You believe that everyone is valuable in their own right.
- No matter what people may have done, or who they may be, you accept everyone the same.

Use wisely - You are likely to be in high demand. Make sure you have time for yourself at some point, and that others don't take advantage of your accepting nature.

2 Self-belief

- You are very confident and self-assured, with an unwavering belief in your abilities.
- You believe that almost anything is within your reach, if you set your mind to it and work hard to achieve it.
- This self-belief shines through every day and instils a confidence in the people around you.

Use wisely - How do others perceive you? Ensure you recognise the contributions and success of the people around you, as well as being a great and confident role model yourself.

3 Strategic Awareness

- You have a keen interest in understanding changes in the wider world that could impact on your plans and objectives.
- As a big picture thinker, you are able to develop and shift your long term plans effectively.
- You enjoy taking steps to deal with whatever situations and circumstances may arise in the future.

Use wisely - Ensure your thinking leads to action as well as understanding! Link it to current projects and goals that have clear end outcomes that you can focus on.

4 Incubator

- You love to think, to ponder and to reflect throughout your day, every day.
- You enjoy taking moments out of your day to give yourself dedicated thinking time.
- You don't like to be rushed, allowing you the time and space to come up with ideas and questions.

Use wisely - Explain your reflective style to others, as there is the risk that it may be perceived as a lack of commitment or action. Appreciate you may on occasion have to make faster decisions.

5 Mission

- You derive great fulfilment from doing things that give your life meaning and purpose.
- You could be focused on one or many different things that provide purpose.
- How you spend your time, your decisions and your future plans are all aligned to your sense of mission and purpose in life.

Use wisely - Meaning doesn't always have to be long term or earth-shattering. What are the small things in life to which you can attribute meaning and purpose? What makes a good day for you?

6 Persuasion

- You are extremely effective at convincing others and bringing them around to your point of view.
- You love to make a good case for what you want.
- You choose your language, words and methods carefully, in order to win agreement from others.

Use wisely - Combine your talent for persuasion with purpose. Consider your audience and think through which strengths could support you to deliver a softer approach when needed?

7 Connector

- You always love making connections between the people you meet.
- You notice when people have shared interests or something in common.
- You instinctively make links between people by thinking of ways you can bring them together for their mutual benefit.

Use wisely - Think about how you can connect people to achieve business objectives. Ensure you have a diverse network, rather than relying always on similar people.

8 Curiosity

- You are interested in everything and love to ask questions and undertake follow-up reading.
- You are very open to new ideas, seeking out new information every day.
- You get excited when you discover new topics to study.

Use wisely - Focus your keen interest towards your goals as a priority, only moving on when these have been successful. Otherwise, you risk finding that you are all questions and no action.

9 Equality

- Being fair and equitable is at the heart of who you are.
- You consider everyone to be your equal, giving great attention to issues of fairness and equality.
- Your own actions and decisions are as fair and equitable as possible.

Use wisely - Balance Equality with your other responsibilities. Work with your existing priorities and include the people around you to ensure fairness.

10 Catalyst

- You love to mobilise and inspire other people to get things started.
- You especially enjoy getting new projects off the ground and putting ideas into action by involving others.
- You motivate others to work on things that otherwise they might never have done.

Use wisely - Get involved with a diverse range of projects to stretch yourself. Ensure you have energy to continue inspiring others until the end of longer term projects.

11 Innovation

- You are highly driven to want to invent things that are better than what has been done before.
- You look at things from a different perspective to others and think 'out of the box'.
- You look beyond what exists when coming up with new ideas, inventions and approaches.

Use wisely - You may not relish the thought of implementing your ideas, but don't let that put you off sharing your innovative ideas for others to take forward.

12 Optimism

- You always see the best side of any situation and look on the bright side of life.
- You have a consistent and firm belief that things will work out well in the future.
- Your belief keeps you strong and enables you to stay positive, even when things become difficult.

Use wisely - It is great to remain optimistic when problem solving but don't forget to think about the actions you need to take to deal with them too. They won't usually solve themselves!

13 Humour

- You love making people laugh and look for every opportunity to do so.
- You are able see the funny side of things and like to share this with others.
- You have the ability to crack a joke or tell a story that lightens the mood and gives enjoyment to others.

Use wisely - Practice reading your audience and the situation to understand when it is appropriate to use your Humour. Think of ways you can really add value with your talent in your workplace.

14 Counterpoint

- You love to bring an alternative perspective to any situation.
- You see things differently from others, and can present a range of alternatives for any scenario.
- You enjoy bringing things into the discussion that other people have missed.

Use wisely - Ensure that your alternative perspective is adding value, rather than obstructing ideas. Consider how you deliver your message and what forum might be most appropriate to do so.

15 Explainer

- You take complex ideas and express them simply and clearly.
- You love to simplify things, ensuring that a wide range of people can easily understand the content.
- You enjoy coming up with different ways of explaining the same thing to help people understand.

Use wisely - Read your audience. Not everyone needs the same level of explanation, so you may need a few ways to deliver your content to avoid patronizing people.

16 Esteem Builder

- Your words and actions help people to build their self-confidence and self-esteem.
- You clearly see the potential and possibility in people, helping people to recognise it for themselves.
- You love to help others to believe in themselves, helping them to achieve what they are capable of achieving.

Use wisely - Praising others too often can be perceived as inauthentic. Practice doing it at the right time, in the right way, and also don't forget to offer others development feedback.

17 Spotlight

- Whether in a meeting or in a social gathering, you naturally speak up and hold the floor.
- You love capturing people's interest and attention, and find this easy to do.
- You find that you can get people to listen to you and focus on what you're saying or doing, whatever the distractions.

Use wisely - Ensure you use your Spotlight for a good reason; to achieve an outcome. That way you can rest it when it isn't required, giving others a chance to shine as well.

18 Service

- You feel compelled to help people as much as you can, going above and beyond what you need to do.
- You are focused on satisfying people's needs and meeting their requirements.
- Nothing is too much trouble for you when it comes to helping someone else.

Use wisely - Make sure someone is helping you too! Try serving fewer people, or being specific about what outcomes you want to achieve, before jumping in with "How can I help?"

19 Creativity

- You love coming up with or combining existing ideas, images, colours, tastes or concepts.
- You thrive on trying things that have not been tried before.
- You love breaking new ground, linking things in novel and imaginative ways.

Use wisely - A creative idea usually needs a team to implement. Who else do you need to help your idea become a reality? Sometimes existing concepts can still be of benefit too!

20 Humility

- You are a humble person, never allowing yourself to be big-headed or boastful.
- You prefer to give other people credit for your successes, rather than taking the credit yourself.
- You recognise the role that others have played in your success.

Use wisely - Crediting others for your successes too often can take the attention away from your own successes. Learn to balance your Humility with speaking about your own achievements.

21 Improver

- You love looking for ways to do things better.
- You prefer not to accept the way things are usually done, as you love to see how you can make things more effective.
- You find that you do this very naturally – and a lot of the time!

Use wisely - Don't feel that you have to improve everything all the time. Focus your attention on the things that really need improving, rather than just tweaking things for the sake of it.

22 Growth

- Whatever you are doing, you look for ways to develop yourself further.
- You actively seek out activities, skills, knowledge, or new ways of working that will help you grow.
- You love to invite feedback on your performance, acting on both positive and negative comments.

Use wisely - Don't forget to stand back at times and celebrate how much you have already learned and achieved. Be proud of yourself and how you have developed!

23 Rapport Builder

- You start conversations with people quickly and easily.
- You love finding something that is of interest to you both, helping to establish a quick rapport.
- You love meeting people for the first time and quickly getting to know them.

Use wisely - You probably brighten up most people's day. On occasion, though, there may be a need to take things slower and build deeper relationships.

24 Feedback

- You enjoy giving people both positive and negative feedback.
- You believe people need to know what they have done well, so that they can build on it and progress.
- You give people accurate developmental feedback so that they know where they can improve.

Use wisely - Know when feedback will be welcome and balance both positive and negative. Give people a chance to tell you how they think they have performed in advance of your feedback.

25 Empathic

- You have a natural connection with other people.
- You are very finely tuned in to the emotions of others and feel what they are feeling.
- You love to put yourself 'in another person's shoes', to experience the same emotions and feelings as they are.

Use wisely - Consider how you might protect your own emotional well-being, as others are probably only too keen to share their distress with you.

26 Narrator

- Telling stories comes very naturally to you.
- As ordinary events happen, you picture how they might be spun into an anecdote or story to tell others.
- You see the power of stories to convey morals, insights, values, humour, and many other lessons.

Use wisely - There may be times when you simply need to deliver the facts. Know when and what to share with your audience. Be conscious of time, allowing others to speak as well.

27 Resilience

- You have a tremendous ability to overcome adversity and take setbacks in your stride.
- You find the resources you need and pick yourself back up, even in difficult circumstances.
- You know that you have the strength to cope with, and recover from, anything that life throws at you.

Use wisely - The way you cope will be a role model to others. Balance this by showing how you sometimes need a moment to recover, or show your emotional side when appropriate.

28 Legacy

- You care deeply about future generations and seek to leave a legacy through everything you do.
- You enjoy working on things that make a difference.
- You love to make a positive contribution and create things that will outlast you.

Use wisely - Remember to switch off sometimes and allow yourself to do things just because you like doing them. Relax and have some fun!

29 Bounceback

- Whatever setback or disappointment you come up against, it just makes you more determined to succeed.
- You love to pick yourself up very quickly from setbacks, using them as a springboard to spur you on.
- You go on to achieve more than you would have done otherwise, proving your success to yourself and others.

Use wisely - As well as harnessing your drive to get back up and succeed after setbacks, try to take a little time out to reflect on your experiences and rest a little too.

30 Change Agent

- You love to be involved with and bring about change, identifying the real benefits of the changes you make.
- You relish opportunities to implement change and become an advocate for new developments.
- Your enthusiasm for change enthuses others in turn, who otherwise would have been more reluctant about the change.

Use wisely - To ensure the success of new developments, understand the full impact on others and how they might react. Don't embark on change for the sake of change.

31 Authenticity

- Whatever you do, you do it with genuine conviction and without pretence.
- You always keep to your own values and beliefs, no matter what other people may want you to do.
- You are proud to stand up for what you believe in, doing things in a way that is right for you.

Use wisely - Know when you need to stand strong, as well as when you need to flex a little. Remember that not everyone holds the same values as you.

32 Relationship Deepener

- Building close relationships with people is very important to you.
- For you, really getting to know someone, and for them to know you, takes time.
- Your relationships with people will develop slowly over time, but will almost always last for the long term.

Use wisely - Remember not to miss opportunities to connect with people on a more informal basis. You might need more of a diverse network of loose contacts in the future.

33 Gratitude

- You are constantly aware of how fortunate you are and the positive things that you have in your life.
- You naturally notice and appreciate the good things that happen to you.
- You take nothing and nobody for granted.

Use wisely - Find different ways to be grateful. Write a journal, text a friend, email your manager, write a blog or sing a song. Varying your gratitude will help to keep you from appearing inauthentic.

34 Emotional Awareness

- You pay close attention to how people feel. You are an excellent judge of their emotions and feelings.
- You easily pick up on the subtle verbal and non-verbal clues that people give out.
- You accurately interpret them to understand the nuances of how other people are feeling.

Use wisely - Don't forget to switch off occasionally from reading the room, and to enjoy the context you are in. It won't hurt to miss an emotion!

35 Drive

- You are extremely self-motivated, with an inner drive that pushes you on to achieve more.
- As soon as you complete one task, you don't wait to be told what to do, you move on to the next.
- You love to set stretching goals and targets for yourself.

Use wisely - A stretch target for you could be to relax a little! Ensure you are clear about what you want to achieve, otherwise you could be driving around in circles.

36 Personalisation

- You notice the subtle differences in people and relate to everyone as a unique individual.
- You recognise people's different motivations, as well as their preferences and strengths.
- You naturally recognise that what is right for one person, may well be wrong for another.

Use wisely - Once you have recognised these unique differences, move to action by looking for opportunities for others to flourish or giving them the recognition or helping hand they need.

37 Moral Compass

- You are acutely aware of the difference between right and wrong.
- You always act in accordance with what you believe is right.
- Your decisions and your actions are always guided by your ethics and values.

Use wisely - Appreciate that others may have a different moral code than you in some situations and you may need to compromise. Volunteer as a sounding board for others in ethical matters.

38 Resolver

- You love solving problems. The more complicated the problem, the better.
- You will always go the extra mile to find a solution, getting to the root of the problem.
- You're never beaten by a problem, but the problems are often beaten by you.

Use wisely - Remember to spot when a problem can't be resolved and giving up is the best option. You can also ask for help too!

39 Pride

- You take pride in everything that you do.
- You love to deliver work that is consistently of the highest standard and quality, getting it right first time.
- You set high standards for yourself, and enjoy the recognition of others for the quality of your work.

Use wisely - It may be frustrating for you if others don't share your passion for quality. Try developing them and making sure you have given clear instructions as to your expectations.

40 Action

- You feel compelled to act immediately and decisively.
- You are much more comfortable with forward momentum than you are with careful strategy and reflection.
- Getting started is the only way for you. You will learn as you go along and if it doesn't work, then at least you tried.

Use wisely - Be careful not to crash or take others down the wrong path. Try to pause before important decisions or ask others for their input.

41 Listener

- You show a keen interest in what people have to say.
- You focus intently not only on the words, but on how those words are used.
- Everything that someone says is important. You don't miss a thing!

Use wisely - Take a break sometimes and just enjoy a natural, relaxed conversation. Make sure you are exposed to a variety of conversations to keep you energised and engaged.

42 Prevention

- You love to think ahead and anticipate problems before they happen.
- You notice the little things that might be out of place or going wrong, and then deal with them.
- Your actions prevent these future problems, making sure they can't arise in the first place.

Use wisely - Ensure that you share any key learning from your experiences, so that others can benefit. Also, remember sometimes to take a pause and to enjoy the moment you are in.

Unrealised Strengths - Use More

- Look for new ways to use them
- Align them to your goals

1 Competitive

- You are motivated by competing against others. For you, winning is the thing that matters.
- You like to measure your abilities relative to others. You gauge your progress and success by this.
- You feel great when you are first, but you tend to take it hard when you lose. Losing can sometimes hurt.

Use more - If you have held back your competitiveness, look for groups and hobbies, or work situations, that will encourage your will to win once again.

2 Work Ethic

- You can be a hard worker, putting effort and energy into your work.
- You tend to enjoy putting in extra hours, being capable of working longer and over a longer period of time.
- You are aware of this, and you like the fact that you tend to work harder than other people.

Use more - Put yourself forward at work for extra responsibility. Show others your capabilities and your capacity for work, and you'll find that there is lots that you can go at.

3 Writer

- You like writing, finding fulfilment in writing things for others to read.
- You have the ability to communicate through writing.
- The act of writing helps you to clarify your thoughts, so you write clearly and easily.

Use more - Writing doesn't have to be formal. Where can you explore this talent? A blog, marketing materials, feedback, internal communications, or simply homework support at home!

4 Courage

- While you may well feel afraid, you tend not to let your fear get in the way of what you want to do.
- You like to participate in activities that make you feel nervous or scared.
- You rarely let your fear get in the way of what you want to do.

Use more - What projects have you been avoiding due to feeling nervous? Alternatively, try stepping outside of your comfort zone within existing projects to achieve your goals.

5 Enabler

- You tend to enjoy developing people so that they can do things for themselves.
- While providing support and encouragement, you often give people tasks that you know will stretch them.
- You like to encourage people out of their comfort zone, in ways that will help them to grow and develop.

Use more - Perhaps take on one or two people to mentor and focus on making a big difference to them. It will be extremely rewarding.

Your Potential - Ideas to use your unrealised strengths more

Your unrealised strengths are your greatest area for your future success. Use the ideas below to support your potential and growth.

1 Competitive

- Review how your work or business is doing compared to your competitors. Share and implement ideas for improvement on where you can gain an edge.
- As well as focusing on the end goal and results, regularly review your approach to ensure you continue to be effective and are still enjoying the process!
- Evaluate any areas where healthy competition is needed. Perhaps in showcasing achievements or shining the light on individuals, teams, events or charities.

2 Work Ethic

- Support projects that need to be completed in a short timeframe. With your extra effort the tasks will be a success, but do take a break after!
- Consider getting involved with or starting longer-term or more challenging projects, giving whatever it takes to see things through to the end.
- Ensure clarity on tasks from others to maximize efficiency. Know the quality and format that is expected so you know where to focus the extra effort.

3 Writer

- Look beyond your expertise area and support other areas of the business. Try writing content for sales campaigns through websites, pitches or social media.
- Support others' written communications by reviewing and providing feedback on their technique, with advice for improving style, content and structure.
- Map your ideas before writing to help organize your thoughts. Get some feedback on your ideas too so you can focus exactly on what needs to be said.

4 Courage

- Highlight the potential benefits of taking risks when collaborating. Be prepared with your research and evidence, so the risks are well-informed.
- Motivate others that are working in new or challenging situations. Partner with other courageous people and share strategies and approaches for success.
- Identify any situations you find particularly challenging. Gradually increase your exposure to these, using other strengths to overcome any obstacles.

5 Enabler

- Take responsibility for allocating tasks within a project based on who would benefit from developing the skills. Understand their strengths further.
- You will be a powerful and supportive trainer or coach to others. Consider opportunities within your team, friendships or with customers.
- Encourage a wider sharing of knowledge in your groups. Vary the subjects to home life as well as work. Get everyone involved in new learnings.

Learned Behaviours - Use When Needed

- Try not to use them too much
- Use your strengths to support you

1 Detail

- You have learned how to focus on detail, developing strategies that help you spot inaccuracies.
- When you see an error, you are quick to correct it.
- You try to avoid submitting work that contains mistakes.

Use when needed - Do the appropriate checks and leave it at that. Know when you need a break, or when others need to step in, as it can be difficult to check your own work.

2 Compassion

- You know that it is important to care about the people around you.
- You try to seek the best for everyone, offering sympathy and support to others.
- When people are unhappy, you have learned how to find the right things to say.

Use when needed - If you have overplayed this recently, use it more sparingly or move more into the action phase of supporting others.

3 Centred

- You have learned to remain grounded in whatever situation you find yourself.
- You have taken time to understand who and what you are, being able to portray a natural sense of self-assurance.
- Whatever challenges life throws at you, you have learned to be poised and composed, and are rarely shaken.

Use when needed - Balance out those activities which test your self-assurance with those you have more confidence in. Whilst, it's great to gain rapid growth, know your limits before you burnout.

4 Judgement

- You have learned how to make sound decisions quickly and easily.
- You know how to assess the pros and cons of situations and have become confident in your decision making.
- By adopting these approaches, your decisions stand up to robust challenge.

Use when needed - What would help decision making? For the bigger decisions it might be worth bouncing ideas around with colleagues, or you may prefer to take more time to think things through.

5 Adventure

- You have learned to deal with risk or the untried.
- You cope with experiences that are outside of your comfort zone.
- You know that putting yourself into new and challenging situations will allow you to test yourself.

Use when needed - Take yourself outside of your comfort zone when necessary in order to grow and reach your goals, not for the sake of it.

6 Adaptable

- You have learned how to rearrange resources and adapt plans to meet the changing demands of new situations.
- You know through experience when to stay on track and when to change to become more effective.
- You are able to adapt and find the best fit for things, being content with juggling things as the context changes.

Use when needed - It can be exhausting, so know when it is necessary to be flexible and when a more consistent approach is needed for a good outcome.

Weaknesses - Use Less

- Delegate to others who have this as a strength
- Use your strengths to compensate

1 Persistence

- You may find it hard to keep going when you are faced with difficult challenges.
- You may prefer to find easier routes or just give up when faced with frustrations.

Use less - What strengths could keep you going? Look for your inner motivation, your reason for doing things, or your belief in a better future. On occasion it can be beneficial to know when to quit too.

5 Self-awareness

- You may find it hard to focus on understanding your behaviour and emotions to situations.
- You may not have a deep awareness of your strengths and weaknesses.

Use less - You are reading this - so well done, a great start! Read your Profile thoroughly, and ask those who know you well for their opinion on your results, to encourage further reflection.

2 Organiser

- You may not describe yourself as someone who is well-organised.
- You may feel that being more organised would help you to be more effective, but simply find it hard to do.

Use less - What impact does this have on your performance? If it's a negative one, you might want to get to good enough. Get tips from others and be realistic – even a few reminders on your phone might help!

6 Adherence

- You are not the sort of person who is motivated by carefully following guidelines and rules.
- You may be uncomfortable completing tasks that have clear steps and stages.

Use less - Be realistic on the impact this is having on you. Although you may not invent rules, you might not be breaking them either.

3 Personal Responsibility

- You may not always be true to your word, as there are times when other things get in the way.
- You may find it hard to always hold yourself accountable, as other circumstances often exist.

Use less - What usually gets in the way of keeping your promises? Draw on your strengths to overcome these barriers. Let others know in plenty of time if you cannot deliver, or delegate responsibility.

7 Planner

- You may find it hard, before starting tasks, to think carefully and establish timeframes.
- For you, having a plan is not essential, since you prefer just to see how things work out in practice.

Use less - Check any of your strengths aren't in overdrive and so preventing you from spending time planning. Borrow other people's spreadsheets or planning methodologies and get to good enough, if necessary.

4 Time Optimiser

- You feel relaxed about how you spend time, and tend not to worry about squeezing more out of every minute.
- You may not feel that you use time as well as others do, preferring to go at your own pace.

Use less - What stops you working as effectively within the time available? Perhaps you have to wait for decisions, or you prefer to wait for instructions. Do you have the motivation to change your situation?

Introducing the Strengths Families

The five strengths families are conceptual groupings of the 60 strengths. Each family has a set of strengths share related characteristics, as below. Use them as a framework to understand the pattern of strengths in your Profile.
